

WHERE IS PARKER PANDA?

For playful little cubs with asthma

Parker Panda is the best at hiding.

So quiet. So sneaky.

Like his hero Magic Bear, sometimes, Parker simply... disappears! Even Mummy can't find Parker.

Voilà!!!

Parker hides
when playing with friends, too.

Just like Magic Bear.
So quiet. So sneaky.

VoILA!!!

Today, Parker is hiding but can't stay quiet.
Parker's chest is tight.
Something doesn't feel right.

Found you!

Parker feels yucky but keeps playing anyway.

Poor Parker.
Mummy takes Parker to Doctor Bunny.
Parker has asthma.

‘This is a machine called a nebuliser.
It will help you breathe’, says Doctor Bunny.

‘No need to be afraid. It’s a helpful part of treating your asthma’.

‘Mummy will help you use this a few times each day to help your chest feel better’, says Doctor Bunny.

‘Put the mask over your nose and mouth.
It doesn’t hurt’.

‘The machine will turn the medicine into a mist that you’ll breathe in. So that way, you’ll have fewer asthma attacks’, says Doctor Bunny.

‘So’, Mummy says, ‘your medicine will disappear for you to take’.

While Mummy and Doctor Bunny talk more,
Parker feels sad and scared.
Parker feels different from the other animals.

But, wait...who's this? Magic Bear?
In the doctor's office? Parker doesn't know what to think!

'Hey there, my little panda pal. I have asthma, too', Magic Bear says. 'I used to use a nebuliser when I was little, just like you. It helped me every day so that I could learn my magic tricks'.

Parker stands up straighter.

'You are brave and smart and funny', says Mummy that evening. 'I love you, Parker, and you can do anything you set your mind to'.

Parker continues to play with the other animals, just like he continues to use his nebuliser.

When Parker has his checkups every few months, Doctor Bunny sees how the nebuliser is helping Parker.

Parker gets even better at hiding.
So quiet. So sneaky.
Just like Magic Bear.

*Asthma doesn't get to tell you who to be.
Asthma is only a small part of who you are.
You are brave and smart and funny.
You can do anything you set your mind to!*

*Parker Panda loves playing with friends, especially hide-and-seek!
But when Parker develops a cough, some very important changes need to be made. Follow along with Parker, Mummy, and Doctor Bunny as they take on asthma and discover that it's not so scary after all.*

A tool for teaching preschool children about asthma.
